

Honor Resources

The Honor Book:

Say Goodbye to Whining, Complaining, and Bad Attitudes...In You and Your Kids
by Scott Turansky and Joanne Miller

Great parenting book that lays out a heart-based approach to teaching our kids what honor means and how to instill those values in your family.

The Honor Definition:

1. Treat others as special
2. Do more than what's expected
3. Have a good attitude

Family Time Curriculum:

Honor Club by Scott Turansky and Joanne Miller

This is a curriculum that could be used for a Children's Ministry, but it works great at home, too, if you'd like to do some family time activities and Bible stories that teach many facets of having honoring relationships. I have adaptations of many of them designed specifically for a family night. Email brian@highrock.org if you'd like them.

The Honor CHEER:

LEADER:

[Last Name] Family, what's the word?
[Last Name] Kids, what's the verse?
So how do we treat others?
And what do we do?
And how do we do it?

EVERYONE ELSE:

Honor
Honor one another, above yourselves, Romans 12:10
As special!
More than what's expected!
With a good, attitude!

You can see a sample of this cheer being led in Part 2 at 5:19.
